Úloha 1

Girl 1: Hi Jessica. Are you enjoying the evening?

Girl 2: Yes, it's great. I can't wait to open the presents.

Girl 1: I hope that big blue box is for me.

Girl 2: Well, it isn't... I've bought it myself for...

Girl 1: It's for Harry, isn't? What is it?

Girl 2: A big surprise! Don't ask me. Have you tried any food?

Girl 1: Yes, the tuna sandwiches are wonderful. I'm full. Let's have something to drink now.

You will hear 5 dialogues. For each dialogue, choose the correct answer.

The girls are

- at a Christmas party.
- at the market.
- in a clothes shop.
- at a bus stop.

Úloha 2

Nick: Excuse me, Mr. Campbell, could I ask you about something, please?

English teacher: Yes, Nick. Of course.

Nick: Hmm...

English teacher: What's the problem, Nick?

Nick: I would like to take an exam in English... The Key English Test...

English teacher: That's a great idea. I am very pleased that you want to do more than just school projects and English homework.

Nick: Yes, Mr. Campbell. My friend also says an exam certificate can be a useful thing if we want to study English abroad in future.

English teacher: Your friend is right! So if you ask me, try it!

Nick: Well, I feel the grammar we have done this week is very difficult. There are a lot of mistakes in my homework... I worry I can lose a lot of points in the Writing Part if I can't use grammar correctly. Do you think we could do more grammar exercises in lessons?

English teacher: Of course, we could. Anyway, Nick, sometimes you only need more time to understand new things. Don't worry!

Hear and choose the correct answer.

Nick talks to his English teacher because

- the teacher has not been fair to him.
- he hasn't done his homework.
- the teacher has not been fair to his friend.
- he doesn't understand new grammar.

Úloha 3

David: Mum, what is mole?

Mother: Mole? It's a kind of Mexican sauce, I think... Why are you asking, David?

David: There'll be a competition in the new restaurant.

Mother: I've never seen you cook, David!

David: It won't be about cooking this time. And nobody will ask you silly questions like What's the second most popular fruit in Britain?!

Mother: So what is the competition about?

David: They will put a scarf on your eyes and then you will try 10 kinds of food, fruit, vegetables, meat, sweets, everything... And you will have to say what it is. That's fun, isn't it?

Mother: Hmm, interesting...

David: Well, it won't be that easy. They won't test if we can tell vegetable soup from strawberry ice-cream. It'll be about international food, for example from Japan, India or Mexico. I've never been to any of these countries.

Mother: Is it so difficult to find some information about world food on the Internet? Of course, it would be better if you could taste everything too... Anyway, you'll feel more comfortable there if you know some names at least... I hope the competition is free!

David: Yes, it is. But you must guess 6 kinds of food...

Mother: OK, David. What about having dinner in an Indian restaurant tomorrow?

Hear and choose the correct answer.

In the competition David is going to

- make hot and cold drinks.
- answer questions about British food.
- prepare foreign food.
- eat different kinds of food.

Úloha 4

Journalist: Nora, have you always wanted to work at a zoo?

Nora: I think so! Thanks to my parents. My mother is a biology teacher and my father was a vet. When I was a child, my room was like a pet shop – a rabbit, four hamsters, a pair of parrots, once I even kept a snake...

Journalist: Only a few people get the job they wanted when they were small. Are you happy at work?

Nora: Yes, I am. Most of the time, especially when a baby animal is born.

Journalist: What makes you unhappy, then? When an animal dies?

Nora: You might think that the worst moment is when an animal dies. Of course, it's always sad for everyone but death is a natural part of our life. If I know that the animal had a good life and I did everything to make it good, the situation is not so difficult for me.

Journalist: Is there anything worse?

Nora: Worse is not the best word but ... I'm more unhappy when visitors don't respect the rules and when they give food to animals.

Journalist: People shouldn't do that, of course. But why is it so important for you?

Nora: Crisps and sweets are bad for people and they are even worse for bears or monkeys! Every animal needs its specific food to be healthy. Snakes, for example, need rats and rabbits! A lot of people say they love animals. I wish they also tried to learn something about them.

Journalist: Let's hope they will!

Hear and choose the correct answer.

Nora is most unhappy

- when visitors give food to animals.
- when people feel negative about zoos.
- when she must give a snake a living rabbit.
- when an animal dies.

Úloha 5

Martin: What are you reading, Aisha?

Aisha: What is in a Name...

Martin: What sort of book is that?

Aisha: It's a book about our names and their meanings, Martin. There are over one thousand names in the book and you can learn what they mean...

Martin: What does your name mean, then?

Aisha: Aisha means healthy and well. Hmm... it can also mean life.

Martin: Did your parents choose this name for you because of this?

Aisha: I don't believe so. I think it was simply because a lot of girls are called Aisha in my country. At least, my parents didn't have to spend much time finding a name for me. Some parents give very fashionable names to their children, for example names they know from films or pop music...

Martin: Yes, sometimes very funny names like Imagine or Sundae...

Aisha: So I'm happy my parents like traditions. Anyway, I am the only Aisha in our family. We have three Fatimas, my grandma, one of my aunts and one of my cousins are all Fatimas, but I am the first Aisha in the history of our family. So I am quite proud of my name.

Hear and choose the correct answer.

The girl's name is Aisha because

- her grandmother's name is Aisha.
- Aisha was an important woman in the past.
- Aisha was a popular song 15 years ago.
- this name is typical in her country.

She was born on 15th September 1890 in Torquay in England. She was the third child of Clarissa and Frederick Miller. Agatha was a very beautiful and kind girl and she had very long golden hair. She didn't go to school. She was educated at home by her mother. Agatha's mother taught her to read and write as well as mathematics and music. Agatha also learned to play the piano. Her father died when she was just eleven years old. During World War I she worked as a nurse in a hospital. At the beginning of the war she got married for the first time. Agatha wrote her first book just after the war and her first play The Mousetrap in 1952. There are two main characters in her books and stories. Sightseeing Tour of London Leila is a 21-year-old student. She studies history and English. At the weekends she is a tour guide in London. She works for The Original Tour. She meets many people from different countries. They are tourists from the UK and other parts of the world. Leila can speak German well and she can speak a little Spanish. She can't speak other languages, but she understands some words in French and Japanese.

'The Original Tour's buses are open-top, red buses and they take you around the main places of interest in Central London. With a one-day ticket you can see at least 11 famous places in the capital,' says Leila. And she adds, 'I love my job. I never get bored at work!'

The company's web pages give detailed information about everything visitors to London may need. The ticket costs £24.50 and you can use it for 24 hours. You can get off the bus anywhere you like, look at the place, and then get on the next bus. The price also includes free walks with a guide and a boat trip on the River Thames. The tour is exciting for children as well. There is a kids' club on every bus and each child gets their own activity book.

There are two main sightseeing tours for the same price. If you don't speak English well, you can choose the Red Tour. You will see all the best sights with audio guides in different languages. The Yellow Tour takes you to the best of London's places with an exciting live commentary in English. You can meet Leila on the Yellow Tour bus.
